“La Tomatina” in Buñol

¿A sensory experience?

- Imagine a small street, less than 500 mtrs long, not very wide, in a town with around 9.000 inhabitants but that, once a year, is filled full with more than 20.000 people ready to throw tons of tomatoes. It doesn't make much sense, but this is Tomatina Party in Buñol. This is our proposal for your sensory experience.
- DAY 1, August 29th. We will arrive in Valencia in the morning. After check-in in the selected hotel, we will take bicycles to go around the city and we will show you Science and Arts City Valencia and some of its most interesting spots. We will have dinner in Malvarrosa Beach area.
- DAY 2, August 30th. Today is the big day! We will depart to Buñol early in the morning. We will be given an explanation about the origin of this battle so you become more excited as we approach the village. Before the party starts we will immerse ourselves in the atmosphere. Battle starts when trucks enter dropping thousands of ripe, large, juicy tomatoes, perfect to be thrown. Tomato battle lasts for an hour, but we can assure you that it would seem eternal. After the fight ends, we will dress in dry clothes and take the bus to have lunch in a nearby restaurant. In the afternoon, a well-deserved rest before enjoying Valencia's nightlife.
- DAY 3, August 31th. Relax, you will have to re-charge yourself, and for that, we have prepared a paella contest by teams. Later, we will go to the down-town area, near square's hall, where we will have the final lunch in this unique experience in La Tomatina.

We will discover together the best of Valencia
