

• Year round bespoke Veterans football tours to Mallorca

- The scenic island of Mallorca, only 1.5 hours from London Gatwick provides a stunning backdrop of mountains, pine forests and beaches to host the perfect veterans football long weekend getaway. Spain's national sport is no less popular in Mallorca. The Mediterranean climate, where the sun shines for more than 300 days a year and the average temperature reaches 14° in winter and 27° in summer, the island becomes the ideal destination to play football all year round.
- Modern sports facilities with artificial grass pitches allow keen footballers to indulge their passion playing the beautiful game.
- From warm weather winter training camps to playing games against local teams, or participating in organised tournaments, we can make all arrangements. The number of tournaments and events is increasing year after year, and consequently the island has become the perfect destination for both amateurs and professionals. We also arrange tours for junior and senior players.
